Gerard Circle Spotlight: Willard and Kay Jenkins Members of Gerard Circle Since 2016

In a world often marked by self-interest and personal gain, there are individuals who stand out as beacons of hope and compassion. Willard and Kay Jenkins, admired Gerard Circle members of the Allen Foundation since 2016, are prime examples of such extraordinary philanthropists. Their unwavering commitment to local healthcare and education has made a mark on their community, encouraging others to follow their path of selflessness and generosity.

Willard retired from John Deere in 1993 after 35 years in various product engineering and planning positions.

He was elected to the Iowa House of Representatives in 1996, retiring in 2006. Since then, Willard has chaired the Western Home Board, the Iowa Commission for Aging, been President of Cedar Falls Rotary and is a member of Cedar Valley Legislative Liaison committee. Kay taught kindergarten before becoming a volunteer for many organizations including the Family Children's Council and Foster Care Review Board. She was also a clerk in the Iowa House of Representatives from 1997-2007.

One of the most remarkable aspects of the Jenkins' philanthropy is their focus on local causes. They understand that real change often begins in one's own backyard. They have contributed to several health services and educational organizations in addition to UnityPoint Health. They especially appreciate how UnityPoint is spread out across the community and not one central location.

Kay shared parents and community have been a great motivation factor, adding her parents and Willard's were friends, both giving and very involved in their communities. Supporting their community is important to Willard and Kay because it is contagious. Kay says they give back because "It brings together the past, present, and the future. You too can help - it doesn't have to be a million dollar check to support something you are passionate about."

The Jenkins have been married for 64 years and have 4 children, 12 grand-children, and 8 great grandchildren. Together they enjoy golfing, skiing, traveling, gardening, and entertaining.

Willard and Kay are honored to be members of the Gerard Circle. Over the years, they have heard great stories about his philanthropic efforts and how much he supported local healthcare and education. They serve as shining examples of how philanthropy can be a force for good. Their dedication to local healthcare and education has left a profound impact on their community, creating a legacy that will endure for generations. Their actions will encourage others and serve as a reminder of the incredible power that lies in the act of giving.

#GIVINGTUESDAY

This Giving Tuesday, the Allen Foundation is raising funds to enrich healthcare services to members within our community, specifically infants and children. The Family Resiliency Program at the Allen Child Protection Center is dedicated to helping young children (up to age 5) overcome medical, developmental, and social-emotional barriers attributed to prenatal and environmental drug exposure.

The Family Resiliency Program is fully funded by grant dollars. The grant was awarded in 2019 by the state of Iowa and is scheduled to end in 2024.

Scan for more information or to donate.

Hops for Hospice

Close to 200 guests enjoyed this October 19 event, with beer and wine tasting, appetizers and musical entertainment by Brad and Kate. Over $35,000 was raised through sponsors, tickets, t-shirts and passport sales. If you missed out, you can still enjoy a Passport booklet—quantities are limited and they make great stocking stuffers!

A big thank you to the Hops sponsors for their faithful and generous support of hospice services! Special thanks to United Beverage, Hy-Vee, Cedar Valley Dental and committee members and chairs, Dr. Neverman and Alexa Hach, Matt and Belinda Highland and Randi Kirkevold.

Notes from the Executive Director: Mike Lind

As we enter a time of gratitude and giving thanks, I would like to get a head start on the recognition and say, "Thank You" to all of those who support Allen in some way.

We are blessed to have so many generous donors who make special programs and projects possible in the Cedar Valley.

We are grateful to the many patients and families who trust Allen Hospital and our surrounding clinical services for their care, as well as students who make Allen College their choice in continuing their education.

We share our gratitude with the many skilled providers, leaders and team members who have chosen a career in service to the community. Similarly, we are so fortunate to have a team of volunteers who make what we do even more special. These volunteers truly are a part of the healthcare team.

To all of those that impact UnityPoint Health—Waterloo, thank you!

Mike Lind
Executive Director
