Professional Appearance

Team members should present a professional image in their appearance and actions in order to Own the Moment and Champion Excellence.

Policy

This policy is to set a minimum guideline for team members regarding appearance. Our ability to Champion Excellence and inspire trust from our patients and families is dependent on presenting a professional image in our appearance and in our actions. Communication professionals say people form an impression of someone within seven seconds of their first meeting. If our team members look and act professionally, patients and families have greater confidence in our ability.

We want our team members to not only do their best, but to also look their best as they continue to Own the Moment and mirror the professional image of our organization. Some of the guidelines (such as footwear) reflect safety and health issues for our team as well as patients, while others work towards Fostering Unity. An important goal of this policy is consistency. When everyone interprets the policy in the same manner, the result is consistent and fair administration.

Departmental dress codes which exceed hospital standards must be followed. The Professional Appearance policy must be followed whenever at work and on the clock, including trainings and professional development.

Any medical, religious or other exceptions to the “Professional Appearance” policy must be approved by Human Resources. Documentation to support reasons may be required. Permanent medical exceptions must be updated annually.
